Your Digital Revolution Catalyst

Navigating the dynamic internet landscape, FunkPd stands tall as your Winnipeg-based psychedelic battalion of website wizards and digital dreamweavers. We're hell-bent on crafting transformative online realms, showcasing the best of Winnipeg web design through an intoxicating cocktail of imaginative communication and technical prowess.

At the helm of our digital spaceship is Commander Nolan Phelps, the maestro of web design in Winnipeg. He might physically hail from the frost-kissed city of Winnipeg, Canada, but his digital presence flutters throughout the global ether. With over a decade of orchestrating intricate web projects under his belt, Nolan has forged a diverse squad of trailblazers united by a fervor for constructing kickass websites.

Bridging Realities

On my travels, I meet many interested technomads.

Four of us have joined forces, and together, we form Bridging Realities. Together, we create the bridges to our worlds, to our interests and abilities.

It's a beautiful experience to form a community with like-minded individuals.

We are all very excited to see what the future holds for us.

Support my Work

It's wonderful to pass on my years of experience to this wonderful group of young technomads.

My book, "Bridging Realities," is all about sharing this very experience. I provide you with the tools you need to become a digital nomad, traveling while working online
